Guild News

Dear Members,

I hope this newsletter finds you well. Apologies for the delay as I have been in Canada/US for the past three weeks. We particularly welcome a number of new Guild members this month. All comments, thoughts and suggestions are always appreciated.

God bless,
Margaret

Margaret Wickware (President)

Upcoming Talks

Fr Alexander Sherbrooke has extended a special welcome to Guild members to attend two upcoming talks to be given by speakers associated with SotA. Both events will be held at St Patrick's, Soho Square, (London) where the Guild has been warmly welcomed over the years.

Monday 28 November - 7 pm

Cardinal George Pell (SotA's patron) speaking on St Damien of Molokai

Saturday 10 December – 12 noon

Prof Tracey Rowland (JPII Institute for the Family, Melbourne, Australia) speaking on the Doctrinal Mission of St Thérèse of Lisieux

Catechetical Review

The latest issue on theme: "Catechesis and the Word of God" is now available. It includes a number of informative articles for catechists including "Catechizing with Boldness" by Guild Honorary Member, Dr. Petroc Willey. ## SotA News

- Fr Guy de Gaynesford and Dr Caroline Farey began teaching the Echoes course in Tavistock, Devon, in early October (above).
- In late October, a number of Guild members attended the Catholic Women of the Year Luncheon at which SotA's own Dr. Caroline Farey was one of four honorees. Congrats to the organisers/Guild members, Johanna Bogle and Patti Fordyce. A special congrats to Caroline who returned from meetings in Rome on the updating of the General Directory of Catechesis to attend the luncheon.
- SotA Rector, Fr. Guy de Gaynesford was one of the speakers at the recent annual colloquium of the British Confraternity of Catholic Clergy held at The Friars, Aylesford.
- Students who have completed the Diploma in the New Evangelisation and are beginning a third year of study will be meeting at Buckfast on 19 November.
- The presentation of certificates to the first cohort of the Catechist Foundations Course and the Diploma in the New Evangelisation will be held at Buckfast on 21 Nov. Address by Francis Campbell, Vice-Chancellor of St Mary's University, Twickenham, London.
- We offer our prayers for all SotA students including those starting the Foundations in Faith for the New Evangelisation at Ealing Abbey this weekend.
